SUPPLEMENT TO THE

South-Carolina GAZETTE.

[NUMB. 1745.]

TUESDAY, MARCH 7, 1769.

From the NORTH BRITON, No. 81.

DECEMBER 24, 1768.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Strand, Dec. 23, 1768.

A REPORT having been maliciously propagated, that Mr. Bingley, the publisher of this paper, had submitted to answer interrogatories; and that he had brought Mr. Wilkes into a dilemma, in which the enemies of that gentleman imagine (though without foundation) that he is now involved; Mr. Bingley thinks it his duty to declare, in this public manner, that every circumstance of the above report is absolutely false and groundless. The truth is, he entered into recognizances himself, and sureties in 1200 l. for his appearance only, in the court of King's-Bench, the first day of next term; but he never did, nor will ever enter into any recognizance to answer interrogatories, 'till the legality of that mode of proceeding is established on a more solid foundation than at present. With respect to his authors, supposing he had fifty concerned, he has not given up, nor will he ever give up, one. He has not been, and he hopes he never shall be, the means of bringing any gentleman into the least dilemma.—How this report first took rise and gained credit, the public will easily understand, when informed of the following particulars: The evening of the day he was discharged from confinement, a paragraph appeared in the London Evening Post, containing the account of his discharge, together with the conditions of it. The public papers of the next morning literally copied it from the London Evening Post, except the PUBLIC LEDGER; in which paper, instead of the above paragraph, one was inserted, importing, that Bingley had been discharged from his confinement upon his submitting to answer interrogatories. Bingley waited on the printer of the paper, told him the paragraph was false, and desired him to insert another, which he would send in contradiction to it; but instead of what Bingley sent, (which contained only simple fact) one was inserted to the following purport, "Mr. Bingley says, he has not submitted to answer interrogatories, &c." thereby basely and disingenuously insinuating, that the only authority which the printer had, or public could have, for the truth of this assertion was, Bingley's bare word, which might or might not be believed as the public pleased.

The complication of baseness and falsehood contained in these two paragraphs, is a sufficient subject for wonder; but that wonder will cease, when its known, that the PAINTER of the LEDGER, and probably the AUTHOR of both the paragraphs, is the very individual MACFADEN, (though he has now thought proper to omit the MAC, as the characteristic mark of his Highland extraction) who was employed, in conjunction with Philip Carteret Webb, to prevail on MICHAEL CURRY, the Printer (who had been a servant to Mr. Wilkes) to procure a copy of the Essay on Woman. Sure no administration did ever, before, employ three such mean, dirty, and despicable tools!

But, to the point, notwithstanding all the falsehood and malignity of the report, Bingley (considering the very confined sale of the Ledger, and the dis-esteem in which it is held by the public, owing, perhaps, to the direction it is under) would have treated the imputation with the contempt it deserved, had not the rumour been industriously revived on the publication of the letter of the Secretary of State in the St. James's Chronicle of the 10th instant, though both from the Letter and Mr. Wilkes's Address to the Freeholders of Middlesex, the public will perceive there is not the least connection between those papers, and the affair of the North Britons, No. 50 and 51; but the State Letter being printed in only two of the public papers, and the Address (which fully explains the transaction that has caused such an agitation throughout the kingdom) only delivered in hand bills, Bingley, as a farther proof of his last assertion, and to make it more generally known, adds the Letter, together with Mr. Wilkes's Address.

An Extract from the ST. JAMES'S CHRONICLE, of Saturday December 10, 1768.

St. James's, April 17, 1768.

SIR,

HAVING already signified the King's pleasure to the lord-lieutenant of the county in which you reside, with regard to the measures to be taken in general for preserving the peace at a time that so very riotous a disposition has discovered itself among the common people, I make no doubt but either some steps have, or will immediately be taken by him on that head; and, I take it for granted, that, as chairman of the sessions, you will meet the gentlemen, who act in the commission of the peace for the Borough of Southwark, and East-Hundred of Brixton, to consult together, and fix upon some plan for securing the public tranquillity against any mischiefs which may happen, should the same indecent spirit of tumult and disorder, which has appeared in the City and Liberties of Westminster, spread itself to those parts, which are within the line of your duty; and though I am persuaded it is unnecessary to suggest to you, or the gentlemen who will meet you, any part of your duty upon such an occasion, yet, after the recent alarming instances of riot and confusion, I can't help apprizing you, that much will depend upon the preventive measures which you shall, in conjunction with the other gentlemen in the commission of the peace, take, upon your meeting, and much is expected from the vigilance and activity with which such measures will be carried into execution. When I inform you, that every possible precaution is taken to support the dignity of your office; that upon application from the civil magistrate at the Tower, the Savoy, or the War-Office, he will find a military force ready to march to his assistance, and to act according as he shall find it expedient and necessary, I need not add, that if the public peace is not preserved, and if any riotous proceedings, which may happen, are not suppressed, the blame will, most probably, be imputed to a want of prudent and spirited conduct in the civil magistrate. As I have no reason to doubt your caution and discretion in not calling for troops till they are wanted; so, on the other hand, I hope you will not delay a moment calling for their aid, and making use of them effectually where there is occasion; that occasion always presents itself, when the civil power is trifled with and insulted; nor can a military force ever be employed to a more constitutional purpose, than in the support of the authority and dignity of magistracy. I am, &c.

P. S. I have, for the greater caution, sent copies of this letter to the members for the Borough, and Mr. Pownall. If you should have received no directions from lord Onslow for a meeting, you will consider this as sufficient authority for that purpose.

Daniel Ponton, Esq; Chairman of the Quarter-Sessions, at Lambeth.

To the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Middlesex.

GENTLEMEN,

I HOLD myself accountable to you for every action of my life, which respects the public. I desire to stand or fall by your free and unbiassed judgment. I wish to be directed by your counsel and instruction in all matters of importance. It is my great ambition to shew myself not quite unworthy of the choice you have made of me as your representative, nor of being the colleague of the worthy patriot, M. GLYNN, whom I thank you for having joined with me in this sacred trust.

I take the earliest opportunity, gentlemen, of stating to you the following particulars. I caused to be printed and published in the St. James's Chronicle of December the 10th, a letter of the Secretary of State, written from St. James's on the 17th of April, to Mr. Justice Ponton, with some prefatory remarks. I avow the publication of both. I will go further, and declare that I first, several months ago, transmitted to the press the letter of the Secretary at War, dated May the 11th, returning thanks in the King's name, to the officers and soldiers of the third regiment of Guards, for the rank and foul murders committed in these fields on the 10th of that month. My hand trembled, while I copied what I blushed to read, and I gave it to the public in the only way my present situation could admit, with the hope of promoting a parliamentary enquiry into that bloody transaction, which I trust this second publication will now accomplish, and because I think this free nation has a right to be fully informed of the conduct of administration in so important a concern, as the loss of the lives of many subjects.

Administration complains of me for having published the letter of the Secretary of State. I complain to the nation that such a letter has been written. This is not a letter on any personal business or pleasure. I would have scorned to have published any such. This letter was from a Secretary of State to the Chairman of the Quarter Sessions at Lambeth, and is written in characters of blood. It affects deeply the constitution of this country, and every man in our island. I will at present leave it to the honest indignation of every Englishman. I shall now only add, that if I have not given to the public a most accurate and faithful copy, I ask pardon of the Secretary of State. If I have, then I will say, that for the innocent blood of our countrymen spilt in consequence of that letter, the writer ought to ask forgiveness of God and his country, and pass the remainder of his life in penitence and tears. I am,

With great deference and esteem,

GENTLEMEN,

Your faithful and obedient

Humble Servant,

King's Bench Prison, Saturday, Dec. 17, 1768.

JOHN WILKES.

From the POLITICAL REGISTER.

Translation of an Abstract of a Letter from General Paoli.

SIR,

YOU are, without doubt, acquainted with my true sentiments on the situation of our affairs. My character has not been that of a hero of romance, a Quixote, or an Amadis. There is nothing more real than the object I pursue: but if, instead of a real object, I pursue a chimera, I am deceived indeed; yet my error shall never cause me to desert the common cause. What are for the most part the objects of our pursuits, but dazzling chimeras, which have nother existence, than that, which our lively and deceived imagination lends them? Upon this principle, I will pursue my first plan; and if that liberty which I seek, is not to be found any where, I still shall account him my enemy, that will undertake to remove the delusion from my sight! Let me enjoy this dream, which, to me, seems so much like truth.

The offers that have been made me, are both injurious to me, and repugnant to that spirit of liberty, which circulates with my blood in my veins, and which shall circulate with it to the last drop. You little know the courage of the Corsicans, if you can believe they will ever submit to a foreign yoke. All the efforts of Genoa have proved ineffectual, against their valour and love of liberty; and shall we then submit to another power that comes to offer us its chains? The rocks that surround me, shall melt away, ere I will betray a cause which I hold in common with the lowest Corsican. No; I never will become the base destroyer of my country, after having been the generous defender of it. If any man was capable of enslaving me, it would be the Comte de Marbeuf; and the king his master could not have chosen a more enchanting man: but, you know, Sir, the price of liberty, like health, is only known when lost; they are the most precious enjoyments of life. Let the mean slaves of their masters wills fawn at their feet, and renounce the natural rights of humanity; as for me, I have learnt to be free; I know how to live so; and to die free, I would sacrifice ten lives if I had them: I have but one, but that shall not survive my liberty. Be assured, Sir, I shall ever be immoveable. Gold loses its splendor, when offered as the price of liberty. Honours are only able to dazzle fools, if they are not to be obtained but by renouncing the privileges of human nature. What does it signify to me, that I am able to command a multitude of slaves, who shall come and humiliate themselves at my feet, if, in a quarter of an hour afterwards, I am forced, in my turn, to humble myself at the feet of another, one degree higher than myself? If I fall the victim of liberty, I shall fall nobly, and teach others to sacrifice themselves to the common cause. Our love of liberty will subsist, even among the ruins of our country; it will be conveyed by fire, be born again of the ashes, and will grow, though in irons. Of one slaughtered hero will be produced a thousand; and as Tertullian said of the primitive martyrs of the church, Their blood will be fruitful, and heroes will never be wanting in Corsica.

TO BE SOLD, in AUGUSTA,

For no other reason than that the present Owner's ill state of health, and his engagement in another branch of business, will not allow him to pay proper attention to it:

AS compleat and well-found a FARM or PLANTATION, as any in this province, containing 500 acres of exceeding good land, 250 acres of which is inclosed, and under good fence; fine timber of oak and hickory on the remaining 250 acres, a compleat dwelling house, neatly glazed and painted, in which are two chambers, a dining-room and hall, four very good shade-rooms, and three fire places, a very good store, 30 by 29, a kitchen, of same dimensions, a smoak-meat and mill-house, all framed, and underpinn'd with brick, and closed with featheredge boards; a compleat barn, 40 by 29, floored flush with 2-inch plank, a framed poultry-house, and another house under same roof roomly enough to hold a waggon, cart, and chair, a strong and well framed stable, for 6 or 8 horses, three new corn-houses, made of 4-inch plank, capable of containing 1000 bushels of corn each, an overseer's house, a very good garden contiguous to the house, of an acre of ground, and under good clap-board pailing, an orchard of 18 acres, with about 1100 fine peach, apple, white mulberry and plumb trees, from which a great quantity of peach brandy, cyder, and silk, may be made.

There is a lagoon or piece of water, in which is fixed two good pumps, with a field of 50 acres on one side of it, and and another of 35 acres on the other side, very convenient for making indico.

With this Farm WILL BE SOLD,
ABOUT THIRTY LIKELY NEGROES,
MOSTLY COUNTRY BORN:

AMONGST them are, a very good bricklayer, a driver, and two sawyers, seventeen of them are fit for field or boat work, and the rest are fine thriving children; a small stock of hogs, about 30 head of neat cattle, and 70 head of sheep, will be also sold with the Farm.

It may be easily demonstrated, that a person who really understands Farming, and will be industrious, may make on this farm 25 per cent. of his money, only by raising corn and pork, both very saleable at Savannah; the present owner would not fail of making that, could he give the proper attention to this farm.

Conditions of sale, ¼ of the amount to be paid in cash, and for the remaining ¾, credit will be given, upon approved security, for 3 or 4 years, paying interest. Enquire of JOHN GORDON, Esq; merchant, in Charles-Town, or Mr. THOMAS NETHERCLEFT, merchant, at Savannah. Augusta, 17th January, 1769.

WILSON, CORAM, WAYNE, & Co.

Have just imported, in the Brigantine Ranger, Captain William Pickles from LONDON;

A Compleat assortment of European and East-India goods; also Kenton's best PORTER in casks and bottles; Port WINE in hampers; which they will sell cheap at their store on the Bay, the corner of Broad-Street.

N. B. They have also to dispose of, Bar Iron, Ship Bread, Northward Rum, Muscovado Sugar, with coarse and fine SALT.

TO BE LETT,

A Commodious small TENEMENT, in Guignard Street, next door to Capt. William Moultrie's. For further particulars enquire of ISAAC MOTTE, on the Bay.

WHO has for sale, two very neat Italian RIDING CHAIRS.

JOHN WATSON,
GARDENER and SEEDSMAN,

TAKES this method to acquaint the Public, that it is now a proper season to remove Trees, and that he has got to dispose of, a great variety of grafted and inoculated FRUIT TREES of the best kinds, viz. Apples, Pears, Plumbs, Cherries, Nectarins, Apricots, English Walnuts, Mulberries, &c. &c. Also Garden Seeds, Tools and Flower Roots, just imported.—The curious may be supplied with collections of Seeds and Plants, of the best and most valuable kinds of Flowering Trees, Shrubs, &c. the produce of this and adjacent provinces.——Whoever please to favour him with their orders, may depend on having fresh seeds, and good plants, the latter being raised from seeds in his Nursery, and will be put up in a proper manner for exportation.

It contains 300 acres of good rice, corn and indico land, with a small crop of rice, corn, pease and potatoes upon it, (and about 100 bushels of oats, if the purchaser chooses) also a large orchard, well stocked with most kinds of fruit trees: The improvements upon it are, a good two-story brick house of 3 rooms on a floor, with a cellar, and piazzas the whole length on each side, store rooms, dairy room, and almost every other necessary building: There is also a good dam of water for making indico. Four or five years credit will be given, if desired, paying the usual interest. Whoever has a mind to purchase, may treat with me on Ashley-River.

ISAAC LADSON.

In the COUNCIL-CHAMBER, the 9th Day of December, 1768.

PRESENT, His Excellency the Governor in Council.

HIS Majesty's Surveyor-General, having reported to his Excellency, That several of the parties, who had obtained orders to have plats of land that were out of date in his office, certified to them, had nevertheless neglected to carry them any further, whereby other people were prevented from applying for them, and neither taxes nor quit-rents accrued from the said lands: His Excellency, taking the same into consideration, was pleased, by the advice of the Board, to direct, That, if any person shall hereafter obtain an order, to have an elapsed plat certified to him, and shall not carry the same into a grant within three months thereafter, it shall be again deemed out of date: And that this order be published in the Gazettes. JAMES SIMPSON, C. C.

JONES & RICHARDSON,

Have just received, from London, Glasgow, and Bristol, by the Capt's Higgins, McLarty, and Arthur;

A LARGE SUPPLY of such GOODS as are usually imported from those places:——Which, with what they had before on hand, makes their ASSORTMENT complete; to be sold on the usual terms, at their store in Broad street: Where their Country Friends orders will be punctually executed.

N. B A small consignment of EAST INDIA GOODS, amongst which are, some flowered and brocaded Gorgorons, a rich painted Taffaty, and other silks, cambricks, lawns, lawn and cambrick handkerchiefs, ready hemm'd, and a few very fine silk breeches pieces, will be sold at the above place, for cash only, much under the common advance, and, having been purchased with the cash, at first hands, will come very cheap. Who hereby acquaints his Friends, he has not yet sold his Negro Shoe-makers, therefore can supply them with Boots, Shoes, &c. as usual.——Likewise for sale, a quiet orderly Negro Wench, a good washer. Enquire as above.

WILLIAM JOHNSON,

Having taken a convenient SHOP, on Mr. Charles Elliott's Wharf:

ACQUAINTS all his FRIENDS, MERCHANTS, SHIP MASTERS, PLANTERS, and others, that may have occasion for any kind of BLACKSMITH's WORK, that they may depend upon the same being done, at his Shop, exactly agreeable to directions, with the greatest dispatch, and upon reasonable terms; and that all favours conferred upon him will be thankfully acknowledged.

JOHN WARD, TAYLOR,

Has lately imported, in the BEAUFAIN, Capt. CURLING, from LONDON:

A FRESH ASSORTMENT of the very best superfine BROAD CLOTHS, with the best of trimmings, silk and worsted breeches pieces, scarlet and crimson hair shag, also green and blue livery shag, and all other materials fit for his business.

His goods are chosen by one of the best judges in the DRAPERY WAY, and on the best terms; he therefore will supply Gentlemen, on any occasion, cheaper than any one in the province.

ANY PERSON, capable of teaching Reading, Writing, Arithmetick, and Accompts, may meet with good encouragement, by applying to EDMUND BELLINGER.

Who has to lett, a two-story BRICK HOUSE, with four rooms on a floor, at Ashley-Ferry, very conveniently situated for a tavern.

WHEREAS the partnership of WARD & LEGER, having expired upwards of twelve months since, and as the former intends to depart the province, there is a necessity of closing all their concerns, without delay: They therefore desire all persons indebted to them, to make immediate payment; those who neglect this notice, must blame themselves for the consequences.

Charles Town, January 9th, 1769.

THE Copartnership of RUTLEDGE and LESESNE having been dissolved upwards of two months, and but very little regard paid to their requests, in settling their accompts: This is now, for the last time, to acquaint all that are any ways indebted to them, that if their accompts are not settled or paid, by the 20th day of March next, they may depend being sued the next Return-Day.—No further notice will be given.

WANTED, as Apprentices to a Merchant, one or two YOUTHS, of sober, honest and industrious characters, and of good reputable family. Enquire of the printer.
